Residents in the Staveley area can help set policing priorities

Residents in Staveley, Hartington, Woodthorpe and Mastin Moor can raise any concerns they have in their neighbourhood and help set policing priorities at a this next week.

Safer Neighbourhood meetings are held every few months, and bring together the police, local councils and other agencies to work on addressing the issues that matter the most to the local community.

The next one takes place at 7pm on Friday, February 26 at the Eventide Rest Rooms on Cherry Tree Grove, Mastin Moor.

There will also be a chance to meet officers from the Staveley Safer Neighbourhood policing team and to get an update on what they have been targeting during previous months.

If you have a concern you would like to raise and cannot attend the meeting or would like more information, contact the team by calling 101, the non-emergency number for Derbyshire police, or by emailing staveley.neighbourhoods@derbyshire.pnn.police.uk.
